

ACCESSIBILITY

We want TRNSMT Festival to be an event that is accessible for all.

We have a dedicated Access Team working to constantly improve the experience for accessible customers so, we welcome and encourage feedback from our attendees on our accessible facilities.

TRNSMT are proud to have been awarded the Gold level of Attitude is Everything's Charter of Best Practice. Attitude is Everything is a charity set up to help improve D/deaf and disabled people's access to live music, and to support the music industry in making live music events more accessible. You can find out more about them here.

Accessible facilities are not for the use of people with temporary impairments or circumstances such as broken bones, healing wounds or pregnancy. Customers concerned with any of these points can contact the Access Team.

Please remember to check general event information in addition to the specific accessible information provided in the accessible information section.

Site Description

The Site

Glasgow Green is an outdoor, public park in Glasgow's city centre. The ground in the arena consists of a combination of gravel, grass, and limited hard-standing paths, tarmac pathways and temporary trackway. Poor weather conditions can have a detrimental effect on the terrain making some areas inaccessible to wheelchair users or customers with mobility issues.

Route from Accessible Parking – There is a hard-standing path through a lightly wooded area of the park from the parking area to the accessible entrance. This is mostly level apart from the kerb to the pavement.

Route from City Centre OR Bridgeton Station – This route is made up of pavements and roads through city streets. There are pedestrian crossings with dropped kerbs throughout this route.

The Stages

Mainstage – The area around this stage is mostly flat ground consisting of grass, temporary trackway, and hard-standing paths. There is an accessible platform at this stage that you can apply for here.

King Tut's Stage – The area around this stage is mostly flat grass. There is a hard-standing path along the left side of the stage. There is an accessible platform at this stage that you can apply for here.

River Stage – This stage is positioned at the bottom of a grassy slope. There is a hard-standing path at the top of this slope with views of the stage. There are limited picnic benches on the slope.

Boogie Bar – This area mainly consists of grass. There are hard-standing paths along the sides. These paths have views of the stage but are not in the main area.

Accessible Travel

Glasgow Green is accessible via public transport (bus and train). There will also be provisions for Accessible Parking and Accessible Drop-off/Pick-up. A breakdown of all accessible travel options for the event will be available in the Accessible Information Guide.
